BLAINE AND LINCOLN.

The Sacramento Bee says: "A genuine Presidential boom in Blaine's favor may result from the action of the Republican County Convention at Norfolk, Va., yesterday. That body unanimously, and with marked enthusiasm, declared its preference for James G. Blaine for President and Robert T. Lincoln for Vice President. From a Republican standpoint it would be difficult to discover anything seriously objectionable to such a ticket. We all know that Blaine is one of the ablest and soundest statesmen that America has ever produced. Indeed, had he figured in public affairs fifty or seventy-five years ago he would have been regarded as a really great man. He is by odds the choice of Pacific coast Republicans for the Presidency, and his candidacy would arouse more enthusiasm than has been witnessed in a Presidential campaign here since General Grant first ran for the office. The fact that Blaine and Conkling have been personally unfriendly for a few years past should not cut much of a figure at this time. When Conkling first quarreled with President Garfield and Secretary Blaine he had many friends who espoused his cause; and his open opposition at that time in a Presidential campaign would have been a serious matter. The factional prejudices then engendered have, we believe, mostly been forgotten, and the chances are that, if Blaine were to come forth as an aspirant for the nomination, all differences between him and Conkling would be compromised. Blaine would be a remarkably strong candidate. His views on the important issues of the day—so far as they are known—are generally sound and practical; and he is a man who cannot be moulded as a piece of putty in the hands of others. Among the public men of the Nation, James G. Blaine, is to-day, perhaps, the best representative American. The other gentleman mentioned, Mr. Lincoln, would be acceptable to the entire country, and especially to the colored element. He is not much known in public life, but has filled an important Cabinet position long enough to show that he possesses administrative ability; and he is said to have inherited many of those noble qualities of heart and mind that his father possessed in so eminent a degree, and which have made the name of Lincoln loved and honored everywhere. There is, of course, no telling how things may shape themselves before the meeting of the National Convention; nor can anyone with propriety say that Blaine and Lincoln are the only persons deserving of their party's support for the high offices named; but now it looks as if the Republicans—with a sound and comprehensive platform—might well afford to place their banner in the hands of these men."

A Great River in Danger.

The New York Sun, under the head of "Great Danger," sounds the following alarm in a double-headed editorial: The water in the upper Hudson has been lower during the present season than ever before since the settlement of the State by white men. Rocks and sand bars never seen before have appeared above the surface. Navigation has been greatly impeded, and river commerce above Troy has suffered. The great waterway of the State is endangered by the invasion of the Adirondacks by large lumbering firms. Operations are conducted on an enormous scale, and the headwaters of the Hudson are being stripped of pine and spruce. There must be no delay by the authorities in taking energetic action if the Hudson is to be saved.

The New York Times says a daily mail between Portland, Or., and New York is now in operation, the time being about six and one-half days between the two cities by the Northern Pacific Railroad. This is better than the time usually made between San Francisco and New York. Usually the San Francisco daily papers reach us on the seventh day after publication. The Portland papers by the same mail are one day later.

Oregon's new insane asylum, at Salem, has been accepted from the contractors by the State. Short speeches were made by Gov. Moody, Secretary Earhart, Treasurer Hirsch and W. F. Boothby.

Mrs. McElroy, the President's sister, will in a few days take charge of the White House.

INTERESTING COMPARISON.

San Francisco of To-Day Compared With the Past-Personal Observations.

Noah Brooks of the New York Times, under the head of "California Revisited," makes an interesting comparison of the past and present features of San Francisco. He says: I must confess that I do not know San Francisco in its new garb. The change is simply wonderful. We used in old times to plume ourselves greatly on the fact that real houses with handsome furniture and fine paintings, and real business blocks and real pavements covered the sandy, and swept slopes. These are now replaced by business buildings that are as elegant and massive as any city on the continent. So far as my observation goes, the builders of this new city seem to have given over all fear of earthquakes. They defy heaven with their cloud-capped towers and gorgeous palaces. Of all the changes in San Francisco, that which has transformed the sand waste back of the first hills into a handsome city, is the most marvelous. It is like taking glimpses of Aladdin's palace for the returning San Franciscans to meet one of the cable cars, and with bated breath be whirled up a steep hill which he remembers to have been a desolated declivity, and now finds covered with comely and tasteful dwellings. This city should be the paradise of architects. Nobody seems to think of building a somber house. The prevailing style is what might be called the delicious Queen Anne. Of all the effervescent, floriated bulbousness and flamboyant craziness that ever decorated a city I think San Francisco may carry off the prize. And yet, such is the glittering and metallic brightness of the air, when it is not surcharged with fog, that I am not sure but this riotous run of architectural fancy is not just what the city needs to redeem its otherwise hard nakedness. Nobody knows what the geranium, passion flower, fuschia, and Australian gum is capable of until he has seen these in San Francisco, but the sum of local elegance and inquiring gaze falls on the stately palaces of the railroad magnates, crowning Nob Hill. There is a shoddyite insolence about these great houses that may well revive the ire of the sand-lotters and Kearneyites. For the most part, these palaces which are built of wood and are very ornate, have no air of habitation. They are dark and forbidding, and the general effect of the whole group is depressing. Regarding these gorgeous dwellings, built out of spoils of Government and the people, one need not be surprised that the Communists have threatened to raze them to the ground. The Californian is an optimist. He has a grim sense of humor as he laughs at the short comings and dishonesties of his Government, but it must be said, that in San Francisco, at least, the Californian pays his taxes and bears his burden like a man.

Prospective Railroad War.

Speaking of the result of the Northern Pacific Railroad refusing to have anything to do with the special contract system, there has been a circular issued, bearing the signatures of all the railroad companies, with the exception of the Northern Pacific, addressed to the merchants of the Pacific coast. The circular is to the effect that if the present rates of freights and fares should be cut by the Northern Pacific, or if that company should offer to shippers rates lower than those named in the contract, then such cuts or reductions will be promptly met by all the other companies, and that no rate can be made so low by the Northern Pacific, but will be immediately followed by the other lines. If the Northern Pacific does not attempt to meet the other roads at a meeting to take place in Chicago on the 31st instant, and come to terms with the other roads, the fight may be expected to begin on the first of November.

A Rich Discovery.

Tucson, October 23. A representative of the Arizona Citizen, just returned from the new Quijota mines, 75 miles west of this place, reports the mines of wonderful richness and great extent. He thinks they will surpass the Silver King at Tombstone, and will soon become the most important mining camp on the Pacific coast. The ore assays from 50 to 4,000 ounces to the ton.

A Stupid Train Dispatcher.

KANSAS CITY, October 23. A collision between a passenger train and a pay car special, on the Arkansas branch of the Santa Fe Railroad, reported last night, occurred near Winfield. A fireman was dangerously injured, and both trains badly damaged. The passengers were unhurt. The fault was with the train dispatcher.

The assessed valuation of Colorado is $110,000,000 on the basis of 50 per cent on last year's valuation, and $104,000,000 on the basis of 60 per cent; net gain in the year, $10,000,000.

The ticket agent at Reno has received official notice of the opening of the Atlantic & Pacific Railroad via the Needles and Albuquerque.

Rumored Cabinet Disagreements.

A Washington correspondent telegraphs the following: During the last ten days various rumors have been in circulation affirming a disagreement between the President and members of his Cabinet. At one time it was said that the President and Secretary Chandler had quarreled; then it was Secretary Folger, between whom and the President there had been an exchange of views not of a pleasant character. There does not seem to be any foundation for the rumors, except that it has for some time been believed the President would be very glad to be rid of some members of his Cabinet, and that he found occasion to express to one or two of them his decided dissent from certain actions which had been taken by them. The President is, however, of a reticent nature himself, and has impressed forcibly the virtue of reticence upon his Cabinet. Neither he nor any one of them is likely to communicate any facts with reference to the matter.

A Rich Mineral Belt.

Edwin Darrow, who has been superintending operations on the Batavia Company's mines, has purchased a mine on the Humboldt Queen belt in Sacramento District, says the Silver State, and intends to develop it this winter. The claim which he purchased was formerly owned by Frank Free, of Wadsworth. Mining men are of the opinion that the mineral belt in which the Humboldt Queen is situated extends from Wright's Canyon, in the Humboldt range, to the Black Knob, and that the whole belt is rich in silver ore. The Queen, which is the only location in the belt that is developed to any great extent, is pronounced by mining men to be one of the best mines in the country. The lead is large and well defined, and some 1,200 tons of ore have been extracted while prospecting the mine.

OHIO'S SENATORSHIP.

There is a large Democratic majority in the Ohio Legislature just elected, and, of course, a Democratic Senator will be chosen to succeed Pendleton. This is, perhaps, a more important result than the election of Hooley for Governor, because it is a point gained in the contest for control of the Senate after March 4th, 1885. Despite the venomous fight made against Pendleton by the Cincinnati Enquirer, his chances are now very fair to be his own successor. The Cincinnati delegation will be against him, of course, but will not refuse to vote for him if he gets the caucus nomination, and that he will not probably do. In the opinion of a prominent Ohio Democrat, interviewed by the Washington Star, the only source of danger for Pendleton is that Thurman may come into the field as a candidate, and he stands so easily head and shoulders above every other man in the State that Pendleton would have difficulty in standing against him.—S. F. Alta.

The current number of the North American Review contains an able article by Senator Hill, of Colorado, in defense of silver as a standard of value. The Senator claims that the people of the United States desire that silver, as well as gold, shall be coined, not for the purpose of inflating currency, but for the purpose of preserving uniformity in the value of metallic money, and more especially to prevent such a contraction of the total volume of money as would fatally depress prices, ruin debtors and taxpayers, aggrandize moneyed capital and impoverish the masses of the people. The article is clear, sound and logical.—[Virginia Chronicle.]

JUDGE FORAKER'S UNLUCKY DAY.—Judge Foraker, it is said, has a superstitious dread of the 9th of October. He told a friend that he believed he would be elected, but for the fact that the election came on that date. On this day, when a child, he fell from a walnut tree and broke his shoulder-blade; on the 9th of October, while in the army, he fell off a horse, and had to go to the hospital for a month, and on the 9th of October, 1876, he lost an important lawsuit, which had changed the course of his life ever since. October 9, 1883, he was defeated for Governor of Ohio.

The Carson Index, of Tuesday, says: Mr. Chauncey Haskell of Washoe City, was in Carson yesterday and reports that he expects to have quite a hatch of fry from those splendid golden and red trout of the New England varieties. He will carry on his operations at the Winters ranch, and the youngsters will be ready for transplanting, perhaps as soon as the first of February. Hon. Pete Marker expects to take a large amount of them out to Eagle Lake, beyond Susanville. Mr. Haskell is quite an expert with the fly fellows, and we are glad to see him prosper.

A number of our State exchanges are grumbling about the eclipse, which did not come up to their expectations. If Governor Adams had remained in Carson, attending to his official business, all of this disappointment might have been avoided.—Times-Review.

The comet of 1812 is coming back again. It will probably put in a claim on the government for a pension, with arrears, on the ground of having been present during the late war with England.—Tuscarora Times-Review.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Couldn't Afford It.

Made Honest by Business Principles a Druggist Tells the Square Truth.

"Now, my friend, let's be perfectly frank and candid about this little matter," the druggist said, placing his elbows on his plated showcase and looking his customer fairly in the eye. You have a lame back and want a plaster to put on it. You don't know me, and, judging of human nature as it runs in business, you are afraid I'll humbug you in some way. You may think it an odd statement, but I can't afford to cheat you. Even if I did I haven't the means. "That's curious. (Oh, my back! I'll take a chair, I guess.) Don't you keep plaster?" "Oh, yes, one or two kinds. Once I had shelves full of them—every sort that were ever invented to gull the ignorant and make money for impostors. But I sifted 'em out one by one and now sell BENSON'S CAPSINE POROUS PLASTERS principally. They always give satisfaction, and in the end it pays me to sell them in preference to all others."

"Haven't you Allcock's?" "Yes, but my customers and myself prefer Benson's Capsine—which are quick as electricity, safe as Government bonds and sure as the law of gravitation. The doctors order them, and what is more to the point, I never have heard a complaint from any one who has used them. You can go elsewhere—if your back will bear you out in the operation—and get another and a cheaper plaster, but—

"Don't talk to me about the money," broke in the comfort-seeking stranger, with some heat. "What's ten or fifteen cents to getting rid of this confounded—oh, Lord!—this pain and lameness? Let me have one of Benson's Capsine. That's the real article, is it with the word CAPSINE cut in the body of the plaster." "You'll be around in a week, straight and strong," added the diplomatic druggist, throwing the money in his cash drawer.

IN AND OUT OF TOWN.

What is Being Said and Done in a Small Way.

Born—In Reno, October 23, 1883, to the wife of R. F. Hoy, a son.

Prof. Foster is on his pins again, and attending to his duties in the public school.

Senator Hub Parker, of Carson, was a passenger for the Bay yesterday morning.

Everybody should go out to the track to-day. The entertainment will be fine.

Victor Bauner, of Virginia, came down from the Comstock last night, en route to the Bay on a short visit.

Hon. J. H. Rand, of Elko, returned from Carson last night. He will go to the Bay before returning home.

Ah Man, a celestial scavenger, was arrested yesterday for stealing a bucket of paste from the city bill-poster.

Gen. Evans leaves to-day for his gravel mine near Quincy, where he has eight men at work building a reservoir.

The citizens of Reno should be the best-dressed in the State, for a business suit that will last a year can be bought at the White House at your own price.

The lively appearance of the town at night and its deserted appearance in the afternoon would indicate that the races are tolerably well patronized.

The adjustment of the salaries of P. residential postmasters for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1885, will save in round numbers not less than $1,000,000.

The Index says that Sunderland & Burlington have secured a building for their boot and shoe store on the corner of Musser and Carson streets, the most lively business point in Carson.

The Palace and Arcade are very lively places these evenings. The gambling games include faro, rondo, chuck-a-luck, high ball poker and dice. The outside money make the games go.

Superintendent Crawford, of the Carson Mint, H. G. Parker and P. B. Cowing, members of the Nevada Rifle Team, went to California yesterday to take part in a friendly rifle match to come off at Oakland next Sunday.

The ball to-night at Kimball's Hall promises to be one of the most fashionable gatherings in the history of the town. There is certain to be a large attendance. Everything will be first-class. The hall has been fitted up regardless of expense.

W. M. Neilson, who acted as attorney for Miss Hill in the charges of adultery preferred by her against Senator Sharon, and dismissed in the Court on Saturday, has commenced a suit against Sharon to recover $120,000 for alleged slander.

A German, with two small children, arrived in Reno yesterday on the noon train from Carson. He was at once arrested by Officer Jones on a telegram from Carson, where he is charged with malicious mischief, in casting a stone through the window of N. Soderberg.

The Trustees received yesterday morning a lot of new seats and desks for the school building. The number of scholars has increased so much since the commencement of the present term that for the past month a number have had to use rude benches temporarily constructed for the purpose.

The duck shooting is "bank up" at Washoe Lake, and wild geese are also pretty plenty in that vicinity.

E. L. Case and B. F. Lemmon, of Sierra Valley, have harvested the potatoes raised from the new tubers discovered by Prof. Lemmon, in Arizona. They were no longer than peas when planted, but with a change of climate and soil have grown to the size of hens eggs. They may yet amount to something valuable.

THE RACES.

A Red Hot Running Race Won by Overland Pat.

The attendance at the track yesterday was larger than on Monday. The weather was pleasant, the track and horses in good condition, betting was lively, and although the running race consumed all the time, everybody was well pleased with the afternoon's sport. As predicted in yesterday's JOURNAL, the race was a killing, and six heats had to be run to determine the winner. Jim, Nell Banty, Overland Pat, Snuff Box and Harry B. were the starters. The first heat was won by Jim in 1:51, but he was closely pressed by Nell Banty. Harry B., the Bidwell horse, took the second heat in 1:50½; Snuff Box second, while the Churchill county Jim was fourth, and Nell Banty distanced. The Bidwell horse also won the third heat in 1:49½. Snuff Box again second, old Overland third, the favorite Jim being distanced. The Bidwell boys thought they had things all their own way, but old Pat was determined to stand by his friends on the old Reno track, and he won the next three heats in 1:53½, 1:50 and 2:06, outstaying the Bidwell horse, Snuff Box being sent to the stable before the last heat, not having won a heat in five. The trotting race between Fred Arnold and Crab was postponed until to-day, and changed to a 2 in 3, instead of 3 in 5.

LADIES' TOURNAMENT.

The ladies' tournament will take place to-day at 12 M. The riders will be Miss Nettie M. Winters and Miss Alice B. Jones, of Washoe, and Miss Katy Campbell, Miss Lexie Finlayson and Mrs. Lizzie Cannon, of Reno.

TO-DAY'S RACES.

The first race will be between Arnold and Crab, as heretofore stated, and will be nip and tuck.

The second race will be a quarter of a mile dash between Toddy, Dandy Wheeler, Fawn, Pompey, and Salus.

The next race will be a two mile and repeat trot between Belle Spencer, Win. Tell and Alonzo Hayward, and promises to be the best race of the week.

The horses now here will go to Carson next week and give the Capital folks some fun. The Reno boys are contributing toward the funds.

LOST.

A Portuguese boy arrived on the east bound train yesterday morning who could not speak a word of English, and was therefore unable to tell where he came from or where he wanted to go. He held a ticket from Reno to Susanville, which he had purchased in San Francisco. The C. P. conductor turned the lad over to W. F. Berry, with the request to forward him to Susanville, his supposed destination. In giving Berry the ticket the lad handed him a letter also, written in the Portuguese language and postmarked at some point in Inyo county, Cal. Mr. Berry suspected there might be some mistake about where the boy wanted to go, and wisely concluded to hold him a day for investigation. He had considerable difficulty in finding some one to talk with him, but finally struck Antonio, the soda man, the only Portuguese resident of the town. It was soon found that the lad was indeed lost, that instead of going to Susanville he wanted to go in the opposite direction. The letter was from the boy's brother who keeps a boarding house in some mining camp in Inyo county, giving full directions to the boy how to come, but as far as utility was concerned, it might better have been written in Chinese. The letter was translated into English so that the boy will have no trouble in making the trip from here.

The Way He Did It.

When a Carson Valley dairyman was confronted by the Assessor last Summer for a statement of his property it was noticed that the list contained but two cows. The officer thought this strange and asked the dairyman how much milk he was selling. "About a hundred gallons a day," was the answer. "You see I have two cows, one half and one pump and that is the way I do it." The explanation was satisfactory.

Married.

Miss Mollie Stockton was married at Weiser City, Idaho, last Monday, to Mark Leonard, of Silver City, who was recently appointed Sheriff of Owyhee county. At the same time her brother, Charles Stockton, was married to Miss May Ball, of Sucker Creek, Oregon. Miss Mollie and Charles Stockton resided at Wadsworth with their parents for several years, and have many friends who tender their congratulations.

Arrested on Suspicion.

Coastable Nash and Charley Jones have arrested Jim Martin and John Marshall on suspicion of being the robbers of the Truckee and Sierra Valley stage last week.

What has become of those charges Dr. Bergstein was to have filed against the present manager of the Insane Asylum?—Carson Appeal.

At the Kindergarten.

If you have the time to spare, visit the children in the Kindergarten department of the public school. The exercises and maneuvers of the thirty infants are interesting and amusing. Mrs. Scoville, and her assistant Miss Jessie Finlayson, constantly tax their inventive faculties for illustrating devices for their practical lessons. The first principles of mathematics are fixed in the minds of the little students, by simple experiments with wooden cubes, it is wonderful to see them in this way conquer the mysteries of addition and division. The rudiments of drawing are taught by the use of designs upon cardboard, usually the dotted outlines of some familiar object or animal. Then they are allowed to prick, and afterwards to sew with worsteds that are intended to resemble the natural color of the design. A black horse, a startlingly yellow canary and a blue hen, were triumphantly exhibited by the tiny workers the other day. Cards, cut across at regular spaces, are given them through which they weave strips of bright colored paper, learning in this manner easy definitions of various lines and angles. Cheerful songs, marbles and games are introduced to give variety to the simple studies. The law of love and kindness reigns supreme, and one may search far and wide for a happier kingdom.

Habeas Corpus.

Mr. Hymes, a San Francisco merchant, was taken off the west-bound overland yesterday, at this station, on a writ of habeas corpus. He was arrested at Elko a day or two ago on a charge of misdemeanor, preferred against him by parties in San Francisco, and was in charge of an officer who was taking him back. He was taken before Judge Boardman when it appeared from the testimony of the officer that he was holding his man under a requisition signed by Governor Adams, but that the paper had been left with the Sheriff of Elko county. The Judge, therefore, continued the case until 10 o'clock to-day to give the officer a chance to produce his requisition. The cause of the trouble, as near as could be ascertained, was that Hymes some time since, became surety on a bond for a large amount. This bond was forfeited and judgment was rendered against Hymes for the amount. At that time he was doing an extensive mercantile business, having a house in San Francisco and one in New York. It is claimed he shipped his goods out of the city and was attempting to leave the country to avoid paying the judgment. The defendant denies this, and says he was going to New York on business.

A Model House.

Persons who enter the store of S. M. Jamison will be surprised at the magnificent display of goods in the store, the number of people who throng this emporium of fashion in order to avail themselves of the many bargains, and the uniform courtesy and attention which Nate Roff and his lady clerks pay to the numerous patrons. To one who will once visit there, this is not surprising, for with a small expenditure of money you can obtain bargains that will surprise you.

Humboldt Meadows.

The Lovelock correspondent of the Silver State writes that Mark Brothers, Joseph Marzen, John Harrison and Justice Pitt, have completed three substantial dams in the Humboldt, which cost about $5,000 each, and now have plenty of water on their land. They, with others, are now making preparations to put in extensive crops next Spring. The lower part of the valley is overrun with ducks, geese and jack rabbits, making it a paradise for hunters.

A DROP OF JOY IN EVERY WORD.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.: Three months ago I was broken out with large ulcers and sores on my body, limbs and face. I procured your "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Purgative Pellets" and have taken six bottles, and to-day I am in good health, all those ugly ulcers have healed and left my skin in a natural, and healthy condition. I thought at one time that I could not be cured. Although I can but poorly express my gratitude to you, yet there is a drop of joy in every word I write. Yours truly,

Lord Chesterfield, the pink of politeness in his day, said that a true gentleman should always suaviter in modo, fortiter in re, which means, mild in manner, strong in action. This is precisely the character of Ayer's Cathartic Pills. Nothing operates so mildly and yet so powerfully in removing disease.

That each of said bonds was one of a series of 3,000 of like amount, date, tenor and effect, amounting in the aggregate to three million dollars, and each of said bonds and all of them were secured by a mortgage or deed of trust duly executed and made to the complainant, Union Trust Company, of New York, which said mortgage or deed of Trust was dated April 25th, A.
